ABOUT ME

An intense desire to know about technology from the root, forced me to complete my graduation with CSE. The first two years of my graduation life have been spent with programming and developing educational projects. After that, for some personal issues, I lagged behind to continue that journey of mine with programming and developments. But now after completing my graduation I have decided to spark my full-fledged passion for development again and keep myself engaged with programming languages and modern technologies. Personally, I am a fast learner also a man who likes to work according to proper plans with proper time management by having specific goals, aspirations and professionalism.
